

Engagement Photography

aCoolDryPlace Photography

Whether you have requested an engagement session yourself or have been bought one as a gift, we aim to make you both look your best and produce an engagement portrait you would be proud to display.

Portraits are done using natural light at a location of your choice – perhaps one with special meaning to both of you. This could be at your home or outside at your favourite location.

In a typical portrait session we will try a number of poses and locations (at the one main location). We hope to provide you with a wide range of photos to choose from by the end of the session. If you have a particular portrait idea in mind, the photographer will be happy to hear your suggestions and discuss them with you – after all the aim of the session is to get a portrait that you like.

Gift vouchers

An engagement portrait session can make an excellent gift for a couple who have just got engaged. To make a session easier to give, we have gift vouchers for portrait sessions available to purchase via our website. These vouchers can be delivered to you (so that you can include them in a card) or directly to your intended recipient.
