It is important that you get a photographer whose style you like. If you haven't done so already, please look at the recent wedding photos on our website to see if you like our work.

Your wedding will be a unique occasion, and as such we aim to provide a photography service tailored to your needs. However, we understand that it helps to have an initial outline to customise. We would be delighted to discuss and customise a wedding package to meet your requirements.

Choice of Coverage

We offer four levels of coverage as standard from the ceremony only up to the full day. These are detailed below. However, we are flexible to meet you requirements so if one of these options doesn't fit your desires we'd be happy to customise what we offer.

Our "Ceremony Only" option includes the arrival of the guests, the arrival of the bride, the ceremony itself (if permitted by the celebrant) and both formal and candid photography at the ceremony venue. Our "Main Events" coverage adds the bride getting ready and the start of the reception with cake cutting (staged if required). With this option formal photography can occur at either the ceremony venue or the reception venue. This can be extended with our "Main Events Plus" and "Full Day" options. The "Main Events Plus" includes the wedding breakfast and speeches, with coverage to 9pm. The "Full Day" option is for those wanting complete coverage, with informal coverage of your reception until the bride and groom leave, or until midnight - at which point it is no longer the wedding day!

Included Prints

All our coverage comes with £100 print credit as standard. This enables you to get a selection of prints regardless of any other options you chose. Further print credits can be bought at a reduced price prior to your wedding, or prints can be bought via your online gallery after the wedding. Print credits can also be used towards albums.

Our albums come in two forms, one which incorporates prints and one where the images are printed onto the page in a storybook format. These albums are produced at a leading UK based professional laboratory.

Digital Images

An online gallery is provided as part of our coverage of your day. This enables your family and friends to see your photos, and also serves as a proofing facility for you to chose photos with your print credits, or to buy prints.

As standard we offer a DVD of the digital images of your wedding photos. These images will be high resolution and suitable for printing and enlargement, as well as enabling you to make your own album. The DVD comes with appropriate license enabling you to make prints and share with friends.

Additional Options

FREE ENGAGEMENT SHOOT: We believe it is important that you feel comfortable working with your photographer. The best way to assess this is to have a trial photo-shoot before the day. If you are thinking of booking us for your wedding we would encourage you to book an Engagement shoot with us first. If you subsequently book us for your wedding, we will count the cost of the engagement shoot towards you're wedding photography – effectively making the engagement shoot free! See our website for details of the engagement photography.

Engagement Shoot: Free

SECOND PHOTOGRAPHER: With one photographer shooting on their own, only one event can be captured at a time, for instance we can only get coverage of either the bride or the groom getting ready. We may also miss opportunities for candid photography, for example while the formal groups are being done. Rarely is only one thing happening at a wedding at any one time. Having a second photographer at your wedding ensures you get more comprehensive coverage of the day.

Second Photographer: £200 (+£100 for "full day")

TRASH-THE-DRESS: The name Trash-the-Dress is a little misleading really; the aim of the session after the wedding day isn't to destroy your dress, but to make great portraits of the bride and groom in their wedding gear. In a typical session we will try a number of poses and locations (at the one main location) to give you a wide range of photos to choose from.
